The flood is an event of only two weeks ago, but how easy it is to forget its victims. What would it give if we only half realized the misery of being washed so clean away that not a match nor a hairpin, a frying pan nor a parlor organ could we claim for our very own.

Somehow foreign missions in an unreasonable way are often more fascinating than those nearer home. To illustrate: When the Congregational Church in Glen Ridge was only a project, one of our older church members was approached on the subject of a contribution towards it. "What, I give money for that church? I will not give a dollar to build any church unless it is for the heathen and they must be Methodists at that."

Where has that dollar gone?

Essex Hook and Ladder Co. No. 1.

Essex Hook and Ladder Company No. 1, the oldest and best known company in the Bloomfield Fire Department, celebrated their sixth anniversary on Tuesday night in their rooms on Glenwood avenue.

The occasion was in every respect a happy one and pleasant memories of it will linger long in the minds of those who participated. Charitable and brotherly love characterized the proceedings, the first towards the needy sufferers of Conemaugh Valley, the last towards the highly esteemed foreman of the company, Mr. E. C. Tower.

The subscription list towards the relief of suffering firemen in Johnston town will be kept open until Saturday in order to give every fireman in Bloomfield an opportunity to subscribe. The money realized will be sent, direct to the Mayor of Johnston to be applied to the relief of firemen and their families.

Foreman Tower presented his annual report at the conclusion of which Chief Engineer Johnson called on Mr. George W. Cook for a few remarks. Mr. Cook responded in a very happy vein. He referred to Mr. Tower's career in the department as one of activity and energy, his present efficiency and high standing being in no small measure attributable to his efforts. His personal magnetism had drawn his colleagues in the company towards him and it was the desire of his friends to prevent this magnetism from being disturbed by unfavorable external influences. To accomplish this they had resolved on investing him with a non-magnetic gold watch and chain. Here the speaker presented the much surprised Foreman with a very handsome time-piece and chain.

On ordinary occasions he is a good speech-maker but in this extraordinary event he seemed lost for words. This put an end to all serious business proceedings. The company present then devoted their attention to the demolishing of a beautiful collation, over which a benediction was pronounced by Rev. G. A. Paul, chaplain. The balance of the evening was made merry with speeches, songs and stories, in which "Uncle Bill" Calmus, J. Banks, Reford, A. C. Marr, T. W. Langstroth and others participated.

The officers of the Truck Company for the ensuing year: President, J. Howard Hardeste; Vice-President, C. E. McDowell; Secretary, T. S. Gentry; Treasurer, W. B. Dodd; Clerk, H. B. Davis; Foreman, Frank G. Tower; Asst. Foreman, T. E. Hayes; Trustees, E. D. Ackerman, W. L. Johnson, J. G. Zabriskie and Lewis Dawkins.

Selection of a Postmaster.

The election to be held on Tuesday next at which Republicans of Bloomfield will have an opportunity to express their choice as to whom they wish to serve them as Postmaster for the next four years is an important one.

This method of settling the controversy between the friends of Horace Dodd and of Thomas E. Hayes was proposed by the friends of Mr. Hayes and agreed to by the friends of Mr. Dodd, because it has the merit of entire fairness and because it gives the Bloomfield Republicans an equal chance to be heard concerning an appointment which affects the convenience and business interests of all the residents of this town. Whatever the result may be every man who believes that the majority should rule ought to vote at this election and ought to feel bound to stand by the result of next Tuesday's vote.

There are other candidates than Dodd and Hayes whose friends will have a chance to vote for the man of their choice whoever he may be, but from present appearances the position will probably be given to either Dodd or Hayes.

We have no desire to attack the personal character of Mr. Hayes. He is a republican who has done good work for his party. Whether this work should be rewarded with the Postmastership is the question before the people at Tuesday's election.

There are a large number of Republicans in Bloomfield who have done as much for the party as Mr. Hayes, and whose claims on that score are just as strong as his, but they make no demands for this office. Horace Dodd has done as much for the Republican party as any man in town, but his appointment is not asked on that ground.

We want to see the business of the Post-Office conducted on business principles and in the most efficient manner, for the convenience of all our citizens, and we know that Horace Dodd will give us just such an administration of its affairs.

Mr. Dodd has had twenty-five years experience there, and some people think that is a reason why he should not be re-appointed, but that is the best possible reason why the people of Bloomfield should demand his re-appointment. He will have more influence at Washington in procuring for us additional postal facilities than Mr. Hayes or any new incumbent can hope to secure. This is a strong reason for preferring him and ought to influence many votes.

Mr. Dodd knows how to keep the accounts of the office correctly and has a record at Washington of which any man might be proud. If he is appointed there need be no fear that the democrats will point their fingers at us and say "We told you so."

Mr. Hayes has had no experience which will tend to specially fit him for this office, and even though he should prove as capable as some of his friends claim him to be, his administration of the office would be greatly inferior to that of Horace Dodd. Let us not take a step backward in this matter, but secure for the office a man who can perform its duties better than any other man in the township.

The experience of the last two years under A. L. Brown has shown the great inconvenience and loss resulting from putting the office into the hands of an unsuitable man.

To the Editor:

As a former resident of your town and one who remembers with much pleasure the acquaintance made there, and who has an abiding interest in the welfare of the place, I trust I may be allowed to speak on this question.

The Postmaster in a non-delivery town is a person who comes in contact with almost every adult person, and should be one approved by all, or the majority of all.

When I first became a resident of Bloomfield I learned by what method Mr. Dodd was appointed or selected for the position and as that plan was in harmony with a plan that I had advocated for years before, I naturally took some interest in the question of how well the people could select a postmaster. I had for years resided in towns where the selection was made by a few, according to party services, and my experience had been anything but favorable.

I resided in Bloomfield for six years, during which time Mr. Dodd was our postmaster. I was not in sympathy with Mr. Dodd politically but as a postmaster he was my model. If at any time a man should have been named for the position who was in entire sympathy with me on economic questions, and it had been a question of vote, I would have shown my appreciation of the right man for the right place by voting for Horace Dodd. I believe that if to-day this question was submitted to a vote of the citizens of Bloomfield, who are interested in prompt service, honesty and courteous treatment, Mr. Dodd would receive eight out of ten votes, without regard to party. I trust the voices of the people may be tested by a popular movement.

Yours truly,

E. J. WHITEHEAD.

The Bloomfield National Bank.

The Directors of the Bloomfield National Bank met last Monday evening. It was decided to call in fifty per cent of the subscriptions to the stock on June 15th.

The by-laws drawn up by Counsel H. E. Richards, were read, approved and adopted.

Vice-President Baldwin reported that under the instructions from the directors, the plot of ground on Broad street, adjoining Gibbs' lot, had been purchased. This will doubtless set at rest all rumors about the location of the bank.

The building committee reported that they had secured office rooms in William Hill's new building on Broad street. They expect to have the bank ready for business July 1st. They also reported the purchase of a Hall's safe of the latest improved pattern. The safe is equipped with "time" lock, double burglar doors, and double fire proof doors.

The bank officials were directed to invest $12,500 in a first mortgage United States Bonds, and deposit them with the treasurer in Washington. They were also authorized to purchase a bank note plate, and have notes of the denomination of five dollars printed to the amount of $11,250.

BRIEF NOTES.

A gas main has been put down in Lake street.

Dr. Seibert sailed for Europe last Thursday.

The Township Committee meets on Monday next.

Mr. Henry Lindenmeyr and family sail for Europe June 29th.

The ladies of the Baptist Church hold a festival on Monday night.

The paper mill property at the Plant is advertised to be sold by the Sheriff.

Orchard street still soon have the benefit of gas lamps. A main was put in the street last week.

William Finley, a well known resident, died on Wednesday morning after a lingering illness from consumption.

Eureka Lodge, Knights of Pythias, on Tuesday night voted $25 to the relief of suffering Knights at Johnston, Pa.

The annual picnic for the children of the Newark Orphan Asylum will be given by the Bloomfield Auxiliary of the N. O. A. A. at Pleasant Grove on June 25th.

John Labaque, an employee of the Combination Roll and Rubber Company, fell in the canal while cleaning the fender of the water wheel shives on Monday. He had a very narrow escape from drowning.

The town's flag of our Nation is undergoing repairs. The four newly created States represented by stars will also be incorporated in our national emblem and thrown to the breeze on the Fourth of July next.

The Fairview Improvement Association met last Monday at the residence of Mr. Cyrus L. Potter. The bathing nuisance on the Newark avenue aqueduct was one of the topics under consideration. Several citizens expressed their desire to offer their services to the Town Committee as special policemen in order to stop the nuisance.

The opening of Glenwood Park takes place to-day. It has been well advertised, and no doubt it will be crowded with visitors, should the weather prove propitious. Mr. Eppley, its public-spirited proprietor, deserves great credit for his enterprise, which has made of this tract of woodland a park of such beauty and pleasurable utility. May he get back with big interest the many good dollars he has expended.

Mosses, Geo. W. Hancock, Alex. C. Marr and Morris Hulin, members of the Society of the Army of the Potomac, and Capt. Jos. A. Peloubet, were among the ex-soldiers who visited West Point on Thursday. The Citizens of the Oranges, who entertained the Society so handsomely, from first to last in this reunion, will not soon be forgotten.

The grading of Washington avenue above Edgewood avenue progresses very favorably. The gang of Railfins employed by Contractor Freeman have been dismissed and a tribe of Poles with a sprinkling of other nationalities are continuing the work of civilization.

Contractor Freeman speaks the Polish tongue equally as well as the Italian the change of language offers no difficulties.

The Y. M. C. A. base ball team were defeated in their first league game by the Summit Y. M. C. A. team at Summit last Saturday. Score 9 to 11. The Summit team evidently deluded their opponents into the belief that they had a soft easy game, and thus threw them off their guard. The score at the close of the sixth inning was 7 to 1 in favor of Bloomfield. At this point the Summit boys buckled to the work and came out winners. The Y. M. C. A. play the Orange association to-day.

The falling of a portion of the ceiling in the Grammar class room No. 5, Centre School building, on Monday morning, created considerable confusion among the scholars. Some slight accidents occurred, several scholars being struck rather severely with the falling plaster. Order was quickly restored by the teachers. The class room in which the accident occurred is in charge of Miss Hubbard. A proper material for the ceiling of public school buildings was a subject recently under discussion. Plaster was considered unfit. The argument in favor of metal ceiling will probably receive additional support in view of the recent occurrence.

It has been currently reported and repeated until the impression has become general that the saints in Westminster Church are all taken by the regular attendants, so that it would be difficult to find even a sitting. Such is not the case, as the ushers can readily find seats for seventy-five to one hundred at any of the church services. Also there are several pews and half pews to rent to any who would like to worship with us.

Rev. J. M. Nardello is expected home this morning at the closing exercises of the parochial school on July 2nd.

The Essex Passenger Railway Company announces that they will make a trial of the new electric apparatus on the Bloomfield Division June 15th.

The monthly meeting of the Essex County Building and Loan Association will be held next Tuesday at Unanget's Hall. There will be money to loan.

Watessing.

Several arrests were made on Sunday and Monday by Officer James Foster of men implicated in some trouble in Gilson's hat factory. The parties settled the affair among themselves.

Notwithstanding the heat the Prohibitionists held an enthusiastic meeting on Monday night in Prospect Hall. Rev. A. H. Brown of Roselleville delivered an address.

Another large box of clothing and provisions consigned by a number of Watessing ladies was shipped from Geo. Wile's store on Thursday for Johnston.

Prospect Hose company held their regular business meeting on Monday night. Henry Bradley was admitted to membership.

A lawn party will be given on next Wednesday afternoon by the Social Guild of the Watessing M. E. Church. Mr. and Mrs. William Ellor have kindly tented their house and grounds. In the evening the usual entertainment will be given.

The Children's Day celebration held in the Watessing M. E. Church last Sunday, was a very successful one. The line of The Watessing M. E. Church was a beautiful. The singing was excellent, and the children acquitted themselves very creditably. An attraction at the evening service was the singing of Master Fred. Ellor who sang two solos, though only 12 years of age. Master Ellor fills an important position in the St. Marks Church choir of Orange. He gives promise of developing musical abilities of a very high order.

Notice to Republican Voters.

The undersigned Republicans of Bloomfield hereby unite in a call for an election to determine who shall be recommended to the Postmaster-General for appointment to the position of Postmaster at Bloomfield, such election to be held at Phoenix Hose House on TUESDAY, JUNE 18th, 1889, under the following conditions.

The polls shall be opened at 7 o'clock P. M. and remain open until 9 o'clock P. M. The election shall be by ballot, under the supervision of William Colfax, John G. Keyler, James W. Baldwin, C. E. F. Davis, Wm. Hoffman, Robert M. Ball, As Judges of Election.

Edward F. Farrand, As Inspectors of Election.

Every voter of Bloomfield who cast a ballot for the Republican Presidential Electors in 1888 shall have the right to vote, and if his vote is not challenged, the Judges of Election shall be the sole judges of his right to vote, but if any vote is challenged, reference shall be had to the Republican Canvass Book used at the Presidential election in 1888, and if the name of the voter so challenged is there recorded as a Republican, his vote shall be received. If his vote is not there recorded as a Republican, his vote shall be rejected, unless he shall make oath that he voted for the New Jersey Republican Electors in 1888, and if he shall make such oath his vote shall be received.

These life insurance tables that show the expectation, the average, the probability of life are very curious and interesting. In a million births the males outnumber the females 22,000, but the girls don't die so fast, and by the time they reach 50 years the females begin to outnumber the men and outlive them. There are 79 men to 144 women. The males start out most numerous, and this is right, for it gives every girl a fair chance for a lover and a husband, and it certainly was intended by a kind Providence that she should have one. She is entitled to one and if I had my way I would make every old bachelor marry or support one.

If he would marry according to nature, I would make him work for one. In youth and middle age the males outnumber the females, because it takes a long number to defend the country and to do the fighting. But the old women outlive the old men because they are needed to nurse and raise the grandchildren. They have no bad habits that shorten life. They do not drink nor chew tobacco, nor smoke, nor expose themselves, nor eat in a hurry. They take life calm and serene. One hundred and twenty-five thousand children are born every day. What a squalling and rejoicing if one could hear it all at once. Just think of it—45,000,000 of brand new human beings in a year. But they don't stay long, not many of them. One-fourth of them die before they are six years old. While 125,000 are born in a day there are 100,000 funerals during the same time. What weeping and wailing, what grief and sorrow if we could hear and see it all. Verily the increase of the human family is mixed with great tribulations. Birth is almost always a time of death, with the births only a little ahead, and sometimes, when war and pestilence and famine come, the death rate is ahead—Bill Arp in Atlanta Constitution.

Merit Wins.

We desire to say to our citizens, that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them for any time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price, if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits. GEO. M. WOOD, Druggist.
